Record Number of Registered Voters

This week, the number of registered voters in Pima County topped 600,000 for the first time in history. As of Tuesday, September 15, the total number of registered voters in Pima County is 602,697.

For comparison, the total number of voters for the 2016 Presidential Election was 543,509.

“Early in 2020, there was a big push from various organizations and we processed many new voter registrations,” says F. Ann Rodriguez. “We’re still seeing a steady increase in voter registrations online, in person at our office, and through the mail.”

The deadline to register to vote in the General Election is Monday, October 5, 2020.

“Now is the time to register or update your registration. Do not risk missing the cutoff date,” says Ms. Rodriguez. “Complete the registration form now.”

The easiest way to register is online at www.servicearizona.com.

If you have moved since the last election, update your registration at www.servicearizona.com.

Printed forms are available at post offices, libraries, the Recorder’s offices, or can be printed from the Recorder’s website: <https://recorder.pima.gov/regvote> .

Will Pima County hit 650,000 voters before the October 5th deadline? Voter registration totals are updated every Monday here: <https://recorder.pima.gov/VoterStats/voterttlsdist> .
